Fritidsbanken - Region Dalarna, Sweden

At Fritidsbanken everyone can borrow sports equipment for free, ensuring children of all socio-economic groups are able to enjoy sport and outdoor activities. The organisation started as a small NGO but is now spread across all of Sweden, thanks to the support of organisations like the Swedish Sports Confederation that helped them grow nationwide. The brand is owned by the national NGO but local organisations are members and often run in partnership with the local municipality that provides premises and funds the day-to-day activities.
